

News Release from Glas Cymru

1 February 2005

New Members wanted for Glas Cymru

Glas Cymru, the company that owns Dwr Cymru Welsh Water, is seeking to appoint additional Members who can contribute to a vital utility service.

Glas Cymru is a single-purpose company that has no shareholders and exists solely to provide high quality and good value services to customers of Welsh Water.

Company Secretary Richard Curtis said, "We are looking to appoint more Members to carry out the corporate governance role normally exercised by shareholders. The independent Membership Selection Panel therefore wants to hear from individuals with an interest in Welsh Water's activities and who have the professional and other skills, knowledge and experience to assist in this key governance role. Members can also provide a valuable link with our customers.

"To ensure Members are independent, they are appointed in a personal capacity and not to represent any organisation, community or interest group. They are not paid, but receive appropriate expenses, and appointments will be made on the basis of a written application only."

Mr Curtis added, "To help ensure a balance of stakeholder representation, the Membership Selection Panel is keen to hear from individuals across the region served by Welsh Water – and particularly those with business experience. The Panel would also like to see more women and younger people among the Members."

If you are interested in becoming a Member of Glas Cymru and would like to know more please write to: Richard Curtis, Company Secretary, Glas Cymru Cyfyngedig, Pentwyn Road, Nelson, Treharris, CF46 6LY (email: info@glascymru.com).

Ends

Enquiries to the Glas Cymru press office on 029 2055 6140